

TWO INQUESTS TO BE HELD INTO SHOOTING

Coroners to Work Together in Fayette City Affair

POLICEMAN TELLS STORY

Man Who Fired Fatal Shots Says Foreigners Would Have Killed Him

Arrangements are being made by the coroners of two counties for inquests that will determine the blame for the killing of two and injuring of others at Fayette City on the Fourth. The bodies of the two victims of Policeman Hutchcraft's revolver, Samuel Petros, aged 26 of Smock and Mike Barnock, aged 25, of Fayette City, will be buried today at Belle Vernon. Policeman Hutchcraft, Frank Vesely and Peter Vesely are still in the hospital.

Coroner Harry J. Bell of Fayette county came to Fayette City this morning to make an investigation and to be present at a post mortem examination to be made of the body of Barnock. Barnock's body was taken to Fayette City Friday by Deputy Coroner John Crowley from the Memorial Hospital, Monongahela, where he died. He will also make arrangements for the inquest to be held into the death of Petros.

Coroner James T. Heffran of Washington county has announced that he will hold an inquiry into the death of Barnock on Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and will turn his findings over to the Fayette county coroner.

Policeman Hutchcraft is now being taken care of in the hospital room of the Fayette county jail. His story is practically the same as that related in the Mail Friday. He says that the foreigners attacked him in the Fayette City lockup and knocked him down and took his mace from him. Then they kicked him in the head and beat him with the mace. Only after this abuse did he pull his gun and fire. "They would have killed me," wailed the injured policeman. Hutchcraft seemed to be in mental agony as he related his story.

There is much talk of the shooting at Fayette City. Some of the members of foreign societies have taken the matter up. Frank Vesely made a statement to Deputy Coroner John Crowley. He seems to bear a good reputation at Fayette City. He says that Mrs. Uhar asked him to go to Hutchcraft and learn why her husband had been arrested. Vesely says the answer from the chief was a blow with the mace. Vesely says that he and his brother, Peter, and Petros and Barnock afterwards went to the borough lockup to ask the chief about Uhar and to arrange bail. Then he states the fight occurred.

John Smith, chief of the Fayette county detective force was in Fayette City again Friday continuing his investigations. Twelve witnesses have already been subpoenaed for the inquest which has been postponed to the first of next week. The same witnesses will probably be used by both coroners.

Child Dies After Rescue

Saved From Flames Four-Year-Old Succumbs to Blow on Head

Rose Zavetsky, 1 years old, is dead of injuries received during a fire at Monessen last Sunday night. The child was sitting on the back porch of her home, the front of which was a small store. An explosion of fireworks in the store threatened for a time to destroy the building and in the excitement to save the children, the father tossed Rose and another child over the fence into an adjoining yard. Rose struck on her head and was picked up unconscious. Death was due to a fractured skull.

INSPECT SITE FOR BUILDING

Pennsylvania Commission Arrives in San Francisco This Week

EXTENDED GREETING

Governor Tener of Pennsylvania arrived in San Francisco on Wednesday at the head of the commissioners from the Keystone state to select a site for the Pennsylvania building, which will rise on the Fair grounds by 1915, and to assure the people of the west that the old Quaker commonwealth will join hands with the Pacific coast in making the 1915 exposition a world wonder.

Gov. Tener's party was greeted by a delegation representing exposition officials and the membership of the newly formed Pennsylvania Society of California. They were escorted by the California Grays.

With Gov. Tener are some of the best known men of Pennsylvania including Associate Justice of the Supreme Court John P. Elkin, of Indiana; James L. Adams, Pittsburgh; G. L. Austin, Philadelphia; James W. Kink, Chester P. Ray and Attorney General John C. Bell, of Philadelphia; Charles F. Thompson, Charleroi; G. L. Mitrander, Lebanon; M. J. Haines, Pittsburgh; M. S. Hershey, J. H. Porter, Beaver Falls; Frank B. McClaine, Lancaster; Morgan E. Gable, Pittsburgh; George W. Creighton, Altoona; Charles W. Holmes, Williamsport; C. A. Bentley, Monongahela; Victor Johnson, Meadville; Charles F. Schaffer, Berwick; Charles W. Ashley, Homestead; C. E. Carothers, C. W. Jones and Walter N. Gaither, secretary of the commission.

Arriving in the city the Pennsylvanians were taken to the Fairmont hotel. Later the visitors were entertained at luncheon at the Commercial club. Gov. Tener and the commissioners visited the exposition building and after conferring with the fair officials inspected the plans of the exposition.

CHARLEROI SCHEMES ATTRACT ATTENTION

Beaver to Send Delegation for Purpose of Inspecting Playgrounds--Interested in Local Curb Market

That the Charleroi playgrounds has attracted considerable attention the same as Charleroi's curb market was evidenced by a story in Friday's issue of the Beaver Falls Tribune to the effect that a delegation of citizens of that borough known as the park committee was coming to Charleroi to inspect the playgrounds here. The committee will also inspect the playgrounds at Pittsburgh and Homestead with a view of learning ideas by which they may profit.

REAR COLLISION KILLS TWENTY-ONE

Fearful Toll Taken by Wreck on Ligonier Valley Railroad

Charleroi people were shocked to read of the disastrous railroad wreck where 26 persons, many of them little children, were killed and as many more were injured, some of them probably fatally, in a collision between heavy freight and a passenger train on the Wilpen branch of the Ligonier Valley Railroad, near Ligonier yesterday afternoon.

A single passenger coach, crowded almost to the doors, mostly with little ones who were on an outing, was crushed like an eggshell between the two heavy engines of the freight train and another engine that was pushing the coach along. The loss of life was terrible. Not a single passenger on the ill-fated coach escaped death or injury.

At a late hour last night there were bodies still beneath the wreckage while wrecking crews from the Ligonier and Pennsylvania railroads were working mightily to extricate them. So far learned there were no relatives of any Charleroi people among the killed and injured.

WEINTGE NAMED AS PRINCIPAL

Bentleyville Schools Secure Ellsworth Man to Head Schools

The school board of Bentleyville Monday evening elected a principal for their grammar grades. The other teachers were elected at an earlier meeting.

Chas. W. Weintge, who resigned his position at the head of the Ellsworth schools, where he has been for the past three terms, was elected. His salary was fixed at $75 per month. He will have entire supervision of the grades. This power has hitherto been given to the principal of the high school.

Upon request Mr. Weintge was granted one day out of each month to visit the grades in view to obtain closer supervision. A course of study will be worked out by the principal and adopted by the school board early in the term.

Four new school rooms will be erected and other improvements made in order to advance the progress of the schools.

The following teachers have been elected for a term of eight months: Chas. W. Weintge of Scenery Hill R. D. 4; Margaret Todd, Swissvale; Mary C. Day, Dunns Station; Mary McDonough, California; Francis Tombaugh, Scenery Hill; Ethel Richardson and Mary Piersol, Bentleyville and Joseph Walker, Eighty-Four. The two rooms located at Braznell will be taught by Miss Richardson and Mr. Walker.

HOLDING CAMP AT ROSCOE

Meetings of Free Methodist There of Old-Fashioned Kind

TWENTY MINISTERS AID

Old fashioned preaching of the gospel truths, such as our fathers and grandfathers used to have, is what is being dispensed at Roscoe, where the Free Methodists of the Uniontown district are holding their annual campmeeting. The meetings have been conducted along a high degree of religious fervor, and are attracting large crowds. The camp is located in Latta's orchard, where about 35 tents are pitched. About 20 ministers of the district are in attendance, and large crowds attend the meetings nightly.

The Free Methodists are distinguished for their retention of the old fashioned ideas of worship and preaching the gospel. They believe in exhibiting their fervor to any degree they see fit, and their meetings are characterized by the features of the old-time revivals and campmeetings which our fathers and grandfathers tell about. The members of the denomination are ardent and sincere in their faith, and do not take on any modern innovations.

Last Sunday over 1,500 people were in attendance at the campmeeting at Roscoe, and a record-breaking crowd is expected tomorrow. A cordial invitation is extended to all Charleroi people to attend.

No inspection at Monongahela. The regular meeting of the school board was held this week at Monongahela. The question of medical inspection was discussed and the board decided not to have it this year, because of lack of finances.

Temporary Arrangements Necessary to Care for Pupils

AWAIT NEW BUILDING

Need of Structure Emphasized--Expect Big Enrollment at School Opening

Makeshift arrangements will be necessary to accommodate the large influx of school pupils this fall until the erection of the new school building. This is a matter that has caused the members of the school board considerable concern and which will give them something more to think over until it is readily and satisfactorily solved. Four extra rooms were in use last term one in the Fifth street building and three in the former Catholic church. From present indications about the only thing that can be done will be to open up an additional room in the church structure until such time as the new building is ready for occupancy.

School will start the first Tuesday in September, which is September 3. That leaves a little less than two months of the present school vacation to be concluded.

At the opening of the term last year there was an enrollment of approximately 1,900 pupils. This number was reported two weeks after first day of schools. Nineteen hundred pupils at the beginning of last term according to statistics will mean about 2,000 at the beginning of this term. The enrollment at the end of the 1911-1912 term was 2,063.

The indications are that the High School enrollment will be larger than last year, when it was 125. This will necessitate considerable crowding in the Fifth street building, where four rooms are already in use.

Before the opening of the coming term the school board will have several teachers to elect. Cupid has carried away some that were elected and some have resigned. Others may resign. It is the intention to give out the entire list for publication a brief while before school opens.

ATTRACTIONS AT ELDORA SUNDAY

Eldora Park will present the usual attractions tomorrow. The continued hot weather of the week will make the resort a delightful retreat and hundreds from the community will no doubt take advantage of the opportunities for outdoor recreation the park affords for a day of rest.

MARRIAGE LICENSES NUMEROUS IN JUNE

The number of marriage licenses issued in this county during the year 1912 fell off from the number issued in 1911. There were 111 licenses issued in June of this year in comparison with 129 in 1911. Some of those issued were returned as not being used.

NOT POPULAR.

Since the nomination of Woodrow
Wilson by the Democratic convention
at Baltimore, the third party idea has
very materially diminished in popularity. Republicans who were disappointed that Theodore Roosevelt
did not receive the nomination at Chicago as the Republican candidate
for President are seeing now that
back of the popular sentiment for Roosevelt was also the Colonel's in-
ordinate ambition to again be the chief
executive, together with a growing
conviction in many quarters that only
one man was capable to rule this nation. The more sober minded voters
recognize that this is a dangerous
condition, and that to continue to foster such a sentiment brings the country
perilously near a condition where a dictatorship is possible. Col. Roosevelt's
conduct is contrasted with that of W.
J. Bryan, and the result is reaction-
ary.

With the nomination of a so-called
progressive for President on the "procrustean ticket" it is shown that there is no material difference in
that party advocates for the
betterment of the people than is advocated by the Republican platform.
The conviction is now being forced
upon many radicals that a third party
will not have anything more to offer
than either of the two old parties,
and that the movement is one designed to satisfy personal ambitions rather
than to promote the public weal.
Consequently the need for a third
party does not look anywhere so im-
perative as it did a few weeks ago,
and a big sweep in that direction is
no longer indicated. If launched it
must be classed among the lost causes
of political history.

MORE FARMING.

Since the establishment of the
cure market the need of the farmer has been most keenly felt. One of
the greatest handicaps that the farmer
everywhere over the country has suffered is the lack of a direct market
to the consumer. The great draw-
back heretofore has been the middle-
man who gets the cream of the trade
while the farmer and the consumer
are the sufferers. By this method of
distribution the consumer is forced to
pay the highest prices for farm products, while the farmer in most
cases receives but a minimum price.
The Charleroi curb market has

demonstrated most conclusively that
this community affords a first-class
market for all kinds of farm produce
direct from the farm to the consumer.
The great drawback now is that the
farmers cannot nearly supply the demand. Lack of adequate and regular
markets in the past have discouraged
farming and gardening in this
community that the industry had been
permitted to lapse. Now that the
curb market idea has shown how a
regular and quick market can be developed, it puts a new phase on the
matter of farming. By this process
a quick market from producer to consumer can be maintained with opportunities for indefinite expansion.

At Washington the Board of Trade
is considering the idea of employing
a government expert agriculturalist
to work in the vicinity of the county
seat and co-operate with the farmers
there in the encouragement of producing more stuff for home consumption. The idea is an excellent one, and should command the support of the
whole county. The Charleroi Business Men's Association should communicate with Secretary Dudderer
of the Washington Board of Trade in
regard to the matter, with a view
of extending the sphere of influence
of the expert to include the community about Charleroi. Agriculture, like
any other industry, needs to be fostered and encouraged. Until there is more farming the cost of living will
continue to advance.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

That Las Vegas scrap wasn't even

Pittsburg does seem sort of decent

there on the evening of the Fourth.

Some people declare they go to
work when they only report to have
their names entered on the time book.

Some men who would utterly re-
fuse to countenance the bear dance

Yet there aren't any returns to indicate that Bryan really wasn't the
chief instrument in that direction.

It probably won't affect results
very much if Roosevelt does go ahead
and run.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"What single incident will arouse
a crowd of American people to the
highest pitch of enthusiasm?" was
once asked by a college professor of
a class of students in psychology.
"A long hit," was the reply.

This of course related to baseball,
and the student who made this truth-
ful answer had a keen, analytical
view of human nature. Nothing will
arouse the average American to so
high a pitch of enthusiasm as a long
hit at a critical time by a player of
the home team in a baseball game.

OVER THE COUNTY

Store Burns at Thomas.

The store of David Thomas, at
Thomas, was burned Friday morning
at about 3 o'clock entailing a loss of
about $4,000 which was partially insured. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Lone Pine Man Loses Horse.

H. P. Gregg of Lone Pine is search-
ing for a valuable horse which slip-
ped its halter while in a livery stable
at Washington where it had been left
and walked off. The animal is valued
at $250.

Marianna Had Big Day.

The model mining town of Marianna celebrated the Fourth in old fashioned style. There was a ball
game, and a greased pole climbing
contest and a greased pig catching.
John Zippo climbed the greased pole
and John Sergeant and Gerrold
Tower caught the greased pig.

Hit by Batted Ball.

In a game near Lone Pine Friday
Ray Bedilion, a small boy, who was a
spectator was hit by a batted ball
which fractured his cheek bone.

Killed by Falling Tree.

Stephen Vogel of Pittsburg, 19
years old was killed and Henry Rob-
son of Knoxville, had his back broken
by a falling tree on the farm of
Robert S. Bell near Canonsburg Wednesday of this week. The boys were
camping and pitched their tent under
a dead tree. In the night the tree
fell on the tent where the boys were
asleep. Three other boys in the party
escaped injury.

Rescued Boy From Drowning.

Kenneth Hazlett, the 4-year-old
son of Frank Hazlett of West Zol-
arsville, was rescued from drowning

The condition that brings a crowd up
to the tip-top of breathless expectancy
is described by Dr. Oppenheim, the
noted psychologist, as due to a hypo-
notic influence that sways the crowd.
Each individual concentrates his attention on the progress of the inning
at a ball game, and in critical stages
of the play this concentration be-
comes so intense that a favorable
termination to a majority of the
crowd is sufficient to burst all bonds
of restraint. This is what causes
otherwise staid and self-possessed
citizens to jump up and down and yell
thump their neighbors on the backs,
and throw their hats in the air.

The same influences attain at big
political conventions and evangelistic
meetings. Here speakers command
attention by stirring addresses and
appeals to the emotions of the crowd,
until the concentration of individual
attention is sufficient to sway the
mass. This is what causes stamp-
edes in conventions, and the thousands in the Billy Sunday meetings to
"hit the sawdust trail." It is largely a matter of hypnotism, caused by
intense concentration and the magnetic influences of the speakers.

No better illustration of the "long
hit" was exemplified than at Forbes
Field in Pittsburg at the afternoon
game on the Fourth, when Ham Hy-
att of the Pirates made his famous
two-base smash and won the game.
With one accord perhaps 20,000 people of the 23,000 present, arose to
their feet, and a mighty roar went
up. No other single incident could
have worked that crowd up to make
the same noisy demonstration but a
"long hit," which came at the crucial
time. The "long hit" is the psychological test, and figuratively speaking
the forces that can pull it off at the
right time are the winners.

"I want to pay this bill for $3.84
for advertising," said Justice of the Peace Harry W. Scott of North Char-
leroi, who is also in the real estate
and insurance business, to the business manager of the Mail a few days
ago.

"All right, much obliged," was the
reply. Hope it brought results.

"Well," continued Mr. Scott, "on
the strength of it I made sales ag-
gregating $2,400 and have rented all
the properties in my hands, so that I'm well satisfied with the outlay."

Wooden Leg Joke.

Why is it, as a writer in the Bel-
lman points out, that the general sense
of humor is stirred when anything
happens to a man's wooden leg, such
as its loss or a knothole coming in it,
or getting it under the cars? It is or

of these accidents are serious. Yet

SHE SUFFERED TEN MONTHS

Mrs. Blankenship Tells of Her Restoration to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Elliston, Va.—"I feel it my duty to express my thanks for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was a sufferer from female troubles and had been confined in bed over one third of my time for ten months. I could not do my housework and had fainting spells so that my husband could not leave me alone for five minutes at a time.

"Now I have been restored to health and it has come from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Whenever I see a suffering woman I want to tell her what this medicine has done for me and I will always speak a good word for it."—Mrs. ROBERT BLANKENSHIP, Elliston, Va., Montgomery Co.

Was Helpless—Now Well.

Trenton, Mo.—"About two years ago I had female trouble and inflammation so bad that I was literally helpless and had to be tended like a baby. I could not move my body or lift my foot for such severe pains that I had to scream. I was very nervous and had a weakness.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped me to such an extent that I think there is no medicine like it for female troubles. I am up and able to do my work again and I give you full permission to publish my letter for the sake of other suffering women."—Mrs. W. T. PURNELL, 320-10th St., Trenton, Mo.

AMONG THE THEATRES

A most interesting moving picture repertoire was shown at the Palace Theatre this week. In a scientific and industrial way the leading feature was "How Moving Pictures Are Made and Shown," a reproduction of the great Edison plant. "The Gamblers" was one of the strongest emotional dramas ever shown at the Palace and as a legitimate stage production would have fitted the type of Mrs. Leslie Carter, or some of the top-notch feminine stars of the present day. The plot was the story of the desperate straits to which a woman of the world will resort to try to win the love of a man she admires—or at least what she will do to prevent another woman from winning him. Other strong features were "An Indian Idyl," "Across the Divide," "The Colonel's Escape," and others, including the ever popular Pathe Weekly Bulletin. In the latter was scheduled events from the far-off land of Tasmania, the graduation of class of "middles" at Annapolis, and a baseball game at the New York Polo Grounds between the Giants and the Cubs. Special matinees were given at the Palace on the Fourth.

THE COYLE—CHARLEROI

One of the most realistic motion pictures ever shown at the Coyle Theatre was in this week's repertoire. This was "The Prairie on Fire," and it was the reproduction of an actual fire on the plains of the great northwest. There was enough of a plot to give human action with some sensational climaxes, but the natural scenes was thrilling in the extreme. A renegade Indian and some companions set fire to the prairie grass in order to be revenged on some white settlers for alleged grievances. The ranchmen have a hard time driving their herds of cattle and horses to safety in the marshes and the vast herd of cattle and horses, swimming rivers and fleeing from the flames made a most thrilling scene. "The Land of Might" was another sensational picture of human initiative and action "done in the open," which gave a graphic idea of pioneer life on the firing line of civilization. "Indian Summer" and "Beneath Western Skies" were two strong dramas secured for special features on the Fourth, while a photoplay that was full of human interest was one entitled "No Children Wanted."

THE STAR—CHARLEROI

"Curfew Must Not Ring Tonight," that romantic poem which is the delight of elocutionists, was exemplified in moving pictures at the Star Theatre this week, and it was one of the most beautiful sentimental dramas ever shown in photoplay. The story is familiar to all—how Basil Underwood, the young royalist, is condemned to die by Oliver Cromwell at the ringing of the curfew. Then comes Bessie, his sweetheart, and pleads with the old sexton not to ring the curfew that night. He refuses her pleadings, and she climbs into the belfry and grasping the tongue of the ponderous bell, swings to and fro at the dizzy height while the deaf old sexton thinks he is ringing the bell. Then meeting Cromwell Bessie "shows her hands, all torn and bleeding," and telling how she kept the curfew bell from ringing, pleads for her lover's life, which Cromwell grants. A beautiful sentiment is embodied in the plot, and it made a most thrilling photoplay. The Star had its usual quota of motion picture dramas this week, including the "Animated Weekly," a bulletin of world wide events, and travel pictures.

THE GRAND—PITTSBURG

Votaries of the stock company will be out in force next week both to witness the production in the Grand of C. Haddon Crum's fascinating comedy drama, "Captain Swift," and to say au revoir to the popular leading man, Robert Gleckler, who takes his departure from Pittsburgh at the close of the performance on Saturday night, July 13. That Mr. Gleckler's legion of friends will be charmed by his characterization of the mysterious and inscrutable Wilding, who is known in the Australian "bush" as Captain Swift, is a conclusion predicted upon his many excellent performances of the past.

The play is in four acts and at the beginning we find Swift in the home of Mr. Seabrook, an aristocratic Londoner whose life he has just saved at the peril of his own in a runaway accident. From that moment Swift is a subject of conflicting opinion, of trust and doubt, of love and hate. He has been ushered into the world out of wedlock and, has run away in his early youth and sought the freedom of the Antipodan wilds. As a bushranger he was as much feared as any man who ever rode the king's highway and practiced the "stand-and-deliver" methods of the "freebooter." Australia becoming too warm for him, he took his leave. He has tired of the reckless life and has resolved to mend his ways, seek a home among respectable people and win the love of a good woman. In the home of Mr. Seabrook he finds that woman is Stella Darbisher, Seabrook's niece. But his love-making is stormy, for around him rises the pursuing Nemesis of destiny and he discovers to his undoing, that he is in the home of his own mother and that the net of the law is gradually being drawn about him. His end is tragic. It is renunciation.

In the original production, which occupied at the Haymarket Theatre in London, the character of Wilding was interpreted by Sir H. Beerbohm Tree, while that of Stella Darbisher which Miss Magrane will portray, was played by Mrs. Tree. In the production of next week the other roles will be essayed by Dennis Harris, Margaret Lewis, Hal De Forest, Katherine Stanton, Ralph Remley, Grace Valentine, Frank Wright, May Reardon and others. Stage director, Frederick Esmelton, will give each of the four acts in which Mr. Chambers has set his delightful play a charming and adequate stage setting.

THE HIPPODROME—PITTSBURG

Already preparations are fast shaping themselves for the second week of the season of Pittsburgh Hippodrome, Forbes Field, which begins Monday evening, July 8. A number of the foreign attractions booked by Manager John P. Harris while abroad this summer are now on their way across the Atlantic and will arrive within the next few days, coming direct to Pittsburgh for preliminary rehearsals. Distinctive novelties such as have not before appeared at the Hippodrome are included in the list and there promises to be a greater diversity of acts even than heretofore.

One of the especially interesting attractions will be Czado, a modern athlete who duplicates the greatest feats of the fabled giants and the mythological Hercules. Czado is a man of tremendous physical development and superhuman strength. His act is introduced in an unique and wholly original manner.

For the convenience of the pleasure-seeking public the Hippodrome management has not only placed its seats on sale at Lechner and Schoenberger company's piano house next to the Grand Opera House on Fifth Avenue, but has also opened a ticket office in May's Drug Store, on Penn Avenue near Highland in the East End. Reservations may be made at either of these places at any time from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. and after that at Forbes Field.

King George Owns Sandringham. The statement is again being published that Sandringham is the absolute property of Queen Alexandra. As a matter of fact in the will of the late King Edward the whole estate was left solely to King George, his late majesty merely stipulating that the queen mother should have the entire use of it during her lifetime and adding a wish that in the future the place might become the dowry house of the queen consort. King George is, however, in no way bound by this, and is at liberty when the proper time arrives to dispose of it in any manner that seems best to him. In the meantime he has entire charge of the estate, pays all the outgoings and receives the income.

He Wouldn't Advertise

Breathes there a man, with soul so dead Who never to himself hath said:

"My trade of late is getting bad, I'll try another eight-inch ad."

If such there be, go mark him well; For him no bank account shall swell,

No angels watch the golden stair To welcome home the millionaire

The man who never asks for trade By local line or ad. displayed.

Cares more for rest than worldly gain, And patronage but gives him pain,

Tread lightly friends; let no rude sound Disturb his solitude profound,

Here let him live in calm repose. Unsought except by men he owes

And when he dies, go plant him deep, That naught may break his dreamless sleep;

Where no rude clamor may dispel The quiet that he loved so well.

And when the world may know its loss, Place on his grave a wreath of moss,

And on the stone above, "Here lies A chump who wouldn't advertise."

Advertise and the world is with you! Don't and you'll be alone.

For the world today will never pay A Cent to the Great Unknown.

NOT DRAWN FROM FLOWERS

Perfumes Today Are Extracted From Almost Everything but Seemingly Natural Source.

There are few perfumes today that cannot be made from chemicals, synthetically, as the chemists call it. Formerly all perfumes were extracted from flowers, fruits, spices, woods or other vegetable and animal substances. The first perfume to be imitated was vanilla, in 1876. Heliotropine followed, but obtained by oxidation of a by-product of camphor.

Terpinol is one of the most freely used constituents of perfumes. This is a near relation of turpentine. With this a little oil and aquafortis a chemist can produce a perfume that can scarcely be distinguished from those exhaled by the lily of the valley, lilac and Cape Jessamine, varying according to the proportions in which the chemicals are blended.

Artificial violet is a combination of citrol (an essence extracted from lemon), Indian vervain, or lemon verbena, with common acetone, a substance very like pyrolytic acid.

No chemist has been able to counterfeited musk, but a synthetic perfume called musk is made from toluene, a by-product of benzene and coal tar. This is changed to a complex carburet, treated with azotic and sulphuric acids, is diluted and sold as musk.

Most of the cheap perfumes are imitations and they are almost always inferior to the flower extracts. So it might properly be said that it is a wise flower that knows its own perfume.

Towel Sewed Up in Her.

A towel, a yard long and a foot wide, with a red border, was accidentally sewed up inside Mrs. Moille Myers when she was operated on in St. Vincent's hospital in November, 1905, according to an affidavit filed with the supreme court by Dr. Benjamin Friedman, formerly of this city, now living in Hungary. Mrs. Myers holds Dr. Herman J. Boldt, of No. 30 East Sixty-first street, responsible and has sued him for damages.

Dr. Friedman asserts that when he recovered the towel, after it had remained five weeks inside Mrs. Myers, it bore the label "St. Vincent's Hospital."

"A few days later," alleges Dr. Friedman, "I met Dr. Boldt, who told me that he had sent the towel to the New York County Medical association as a curiosity, indicating the great vitality of the patient. Mrs. Myers told me she was going to sue Dr. Boldt, and I told him of this. He said he was insured against such accidents and that he did not care, as such an accident could not hurt his reputation. He admitted at the time that he might have left the towel in Mrs. Myers' body."—New York World.

M'CLINTOCK'S SLANTS PUZZLE THE CHRISTIANS

Washington Avenues Claim Victory and Strengthen Pennant Hopes

Bert Mitchell's festive ballers waltzed away with a lovely engagement from the Christians Friday night thereby gluing themselves firmly to second place and affording the First Presbyterians a ton or so of worry about their hold on first position. McClintock after twirling at Washington on the Fourth came home and twirled for the Washington Avenues. Apparently the little practice affair at the county seat had only put him in good fettle. The Christians got three hits and had to be satisfied. Lauderback delivered the twisters for the Christians.

Two innings answered in the business of winning. In the first Davis, first man up with the Washington Avenues singled. Coven waved at three, Mitchell fouled out. Barrass singled, advancing Davis, then stole second. Claybaugh was presented with a walk. Nutt and Flood singled successively bringing in three scores. In the second McClintock, first up, singled and stole second. Davis was delivered to first base on a fielder's choice. Coven hit out a sacrifice fly which helped McClintock along to home plate. Mitchell was out, second to first and Barrass doubled, scoring Davis.

Allhouse won first on a fielder's choice that put out Lauderback for the Christians in the third inning. He went second on an error and stole third. Oates struck out. Jolliffe singled bringing in the Christian's only run. Score:

GOOD SCHEDULE FOR NEXT WEEK

Church League Contests Are Growing in Interest—Teams
Well Balanced

Next week promises to be a warm one in Church Baseball league circles. With all the teams in good shape and every game a guess as to results the season is on in good shape and the next few days will contain unusual interest.

The first battle of the week will be between the Lutherans and the Catholics. Ordinarily the Catholics would be the favorites, but lately the 1911 Champs have been picking up in great style and by the acquisition of a few new players have made several of the teams look tired. Tuesday's engagement will be between the Christians and the Washington Avenues. It doesn't take even a guess to fathom out what this will mean. It will be an engagement worth the money from the word go. Both are up near the top and both would like to be a trifle closer.

Wednesday's game will be that postponed from a former date between the Catholics and Christians. The Episcopalians and Washington Avenues will fight it out on Thursday and on Friday the First Presbyterians and the Baptists will maul each other.

Next week a person would only have to trust his choice to fate to strike a good game, if the dope holds. The Church league this year contains teams better balanced than last year. Every one of them has some excellent players. The Lutherans were the latest to bolster up with the addition of Joe Gray, a brother of Alex Gray and a Grove City player, and Very, a former State college star. John McIlvaine, late of the New York State league and the United States league has joined his former aggregation, the Baptists. The rest of the teams were strong from the word go. The First Presbyterians have a hold on first place but it would not be called a sticky grasp in any sense while the Catholics are in their old time form and are playing well together.

Drew the Line at Cats.

To the list of divorces for seemingly trivial causes—such as "cruelty in not taking me out riding," "cruelty in requiring me to sew on buttons," etc., has now been added a divorce granted to a man who charged his wife with "cruelty in keeping cats in the house," thereby preventing him from occupying his favorite chair. On the judge's inquiring, "Why didn't you put the cats out of the house?" the man answered, "My wife is a member of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and I was afraid she would have me arrested."

Where Strength Is Needed.

It is one thing to "play the game" before applauding thousands, and quite another to do it in the ordinary quiet concerns of daily life.

Anchor Class Meets.

The Anchor class of the Christian church held its regular monthly meeting at Eldora, Friday with a large number of ladies present. Each lady as her name was called responded with a toast. The table fairly groaned under the good things the ladies had prepared to eat.

Forced to Sacrifice Beard.

The Wisconsin farmer whom Judge Holhand condemned, in lieu of a fine which he could not pay, to have his flowing beard cut off, may find consolation in the fact that a similar order deprived a man in New York of long and carefully cultivated whiskers a few days ago. The man is employed in a manufacturing concern where his duties bring him in contact with rapid moving machinery. The proprietor's little son, in a visit to the factory, stood near the machine which the bearded man was operating and asked: "Don't the hair ever get mixed up with the silk?" The operator simply smiled, but the father, realizing a danger, gave the man then and there the option of shave or discharge. He chose the former.

TWO INQUESTS TO BE HELD INTO SHOOTING

POLICEMAN TELLS STORY

Man Who Fired Fatal Shots Says Foreigners Would Have Killed Him

Arrangements are being made by the coroners of two counties for inquests that will determine the blame for the killing of two and injuring of others at Fayette City on the Fourth. The bodies of the two victims of Policeman Hutchcraft's revolver, Samuel Petros, aged 26 of Smock and Mike Barnock, aged 25, of Fayette City, will be buried today at Belle Vernon. Policeman Hutchcraft, Frank Vesely and Peter Vesely are still in the hospital.

Coroner Harry J. Bell of Fayette county came to Fayette City this morning to make an investigation and to be present at a post mortem examination to be made of the body of Barnock. Barnock's body was taken to Fayette City Friday by Deputy Coroner John Crowley from the Memorial Hospital, Monongahela, where he died. He will also make arrangements for the inquest to be held into the death of Petros.

Coroner James T. Heffran of Washington county has announced that he will hold an inquiry into the death of Barnock on Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and will turn his findings over to the Fayette county coroner.

Policeman Hutchcraft is now being taken care of in the hospital room of the Fayette county jail. His story is practically the same as that related in the Mail Friday. He says that the foreigners attacked him in the Fayette City lockup and knocked him down and took his mace from him. Then they kicked him in the head and beat him with the mace. Only after this abuse did he pull his gun and fire. "They would have killed me," wailed the injured policeman. Hutchcraft seemed to be in mental agony as he related his story.

There is much talk of the shooting at Fayette City. Some of the members of foreign societies have taken the matter up. Frank Vesely made a statement to Deputy Coroner John Crowley. He seems to bear a good reputation at Fayette City. He says that Mrs. Uhar asked him to go to Hutchcraft and learn why her husband had been arrested. Vesely says that he and his brother, Peter, and Petros and Barnock afterwards went to the borough lockup to ask the chief about Uhar and to arrange bail. Then he states the fight occurred.

John Smith, chief of the Fayette county detective force was in Fayette City again Friday continuing his investigations. Twelve witnesses have already been subpoenaed for the inquest which has been postponed to the first of next week. The same witnesses will probably be used by both coroners.

Child Dies After Rescue

Saved From Flames Four-Year-Old Succumbs to Blow on Head

Rose Zornitsky, 4 years old, died of injuries received during a fire at Monessen last Sunday night.

The child was sitting on the back porch of her home, the front of which was a small store. An explosion of fireworks in the store threatened for a time to destroy the building and in the excitement to save the children, the father tossed Rose and another child over the fence into an adjoining yard. Rose struck on her head and was picked up unconscious. Death was due to a fractured skull.

INSPECT SITE FOR BUILDING

Pennsylvania Commission Arrives in San Francisco This Week

EXTENDED GREETING

Governor Tener of Pennsylvania arrived in San Francisco on Wednesday at the head of the commissioners from the Keystone state to select a site for the Pennsylvania building, which will rise on the Fair grounds by 1915, and to assure the people of the west that the old Quaker commonwealth will join hands with the Pacific coast in making the 1915 exposition a world wonder.

Gov. Tener's party was greeted by a delegation representing exposition officials and the membership of the newly formed Pennsylvania Society of California. They were escorted by the California Grays.

With Gov. Tener are some of the best known men of Pennsylvania including Associate Justice of the Supreme Court John P. Elkin, of Indiana; James L. Adams, Pittsburg; E. L. Austin, Philadelphia; James W. Kink, Chester P. Ray and Attorney General John C. Bell, of Philadelphia; Charles F. Thompson, Charleroi; G. L. Mittrauer, Lebanon; M. J. Haines, Pittsburg; M. S. Hershey, H. Porter, Beaver Falls; Frank B. McClaine, Lancaster; Morgan E. Gable, Pittsburg; George W. Creighton, Altoona; Charles W. Holmes, Williamsport; C. A. Bentley, Monongahela; Victor Johnson, Meadville; Charles F. Schaffer, Berwick; Charles W. Ashley, Homestead; C. E. Carothers, C. W. Jones and Walter N. Galtner, secretary of the commission.

Arriving in the city the Pennsylvanians were taken to the Fairmont hotel. Later the visitors were entertained at luncheon at the Commercial club. Gov. Tener and the commissioners visited the exposition building and after conferring with the fair officials inspected the plans of the exposition.

That the Charleroi playgrounds has attracted considerable attention, the same as Charleroi's curb market was evidenced by a story in Friday's issue of the Beaver Falls Tribune to the effect that a delegation of citizens of that borough known as the park committee was coming to Charleroi to inspect the playgrounds here. The committee will also inspect the playgrounds at Pittsburg and Homestead with a view of learning ideas by which they may profit.

Fearful Toll Taken by Wreck on Ligonier Valley Railroad

Charleroi people were shocked to read of the disastrous railroad wreck where 26 persons, many of them little children, were killed and as many more were injured, some of them probably fatally, in a collision between heavy freight and a passenger train on the Wilpen branch of the Ligonier Valley Railroad, near Ligonier yesterday afternoon.

A single passenger coach, crowded almost to the doors, mostly with little ones who were on an outing, was crushed like an eggshell between the two heavy engines of the freight train and another engine that was pushing the coach along. The loss of life was terrible. Not a single passenger on the ill-fated coach escaped death or injury.

At a late hour last night there were bodies still beneath the wreckage while wrecking crews from the Ligonier and Pennsylvania railroads were working mightily to extricate them. So far learned there were no relatives of any Charleroi people among the killed and injured.

Bentleyville Schools Secure Ellsworth Man to Head Schools

The school board of Bentleyville Monday evening elected a principal for their grammar grades. The other teachers were elected at an earlier meeting.

Chas. W. Weintge, who resigned his position at the head of the Ellsworth schools, where he has been for the past three terms, was elected. His salary was fixed at $75 per month. He will have entire supervision of the grades. This power has hitherto been given to the principal of the high school.

Upon request Mr. Weintge was granted one day out of each month to visit the grades in view to obtain closer supervision. A course of study will be worked out by the principal and adopted by the school board early in the term.

Four new school rooms will be erected and other improvements made in order to advance the progress of the schools.

The following teachers have been elected for a term of eight months: Chas. W. Weintge of Scenery Hill R. D. 4; Margaret Todd, Swiswale; Mary C. Day, Dunas Station; Mary McDonough, California; Francis Tombaugh, Scenery Hill; Ethel Richardson and Mary Pierson, Bentleyville and Joseph Walter, Elgin. The two rooms located at Brazzell will be taught by Miss Richardson and Mr. Walker.

Meetings of Free Methodist There of Old-Fashioned Kind

TWENTY MINISTERS AID

Old fashioned preaching of the gospel truths, such as our fathers and grandfathers used to have, is what is being dispensed at Roscoe, where the Free Methodists of the Uniontown district are holding their annual campmeeting. The meetings have been conducted along a high degree of religious fervor, and are attracting large crowds. The camp is located in Latta's orchard, where about 35 tents are pitched. About 20 ministers of the district are in attendance, and large crowds attend the meetings nightly.

The Free Methodists are distinguished for their retention of the old fashioned ideas of worship and preaching the gospel. They believe in exhibiting their fervor to any degree they see fit, and their meetings are characterized by the features of the old-time revivals and campmeetings which our fathers and grandfathers tell about. The members of the denomination are ardent and sincere in their faith, and do not take on any modern innovations.

Last Sunday over 1,500 people were in attendance at the campmeeting at Roscoe, and a record-breaking crowd is expected tomorrow. A cordial invitation is extended to all Charleroi people to attend.

No inspection at Monongahela. The regular meeting of the school board was held this week at Monongahela. The question of medical inspection was discussed and the board decided not to have it this year, because of lack of finances.

Temporary Arrangements Necessary to Care for Pupils

AWAIT NEW BUILDING

Makeshift arrangements will be necessary to accommodate the large influx of school pupils this fall until the erection of the new school building. This is a matter that has caused the members of the school board considerable concern and which will give them something more to think over until it is readily and satisfactorily solved. Four extra rooms were in use last term one in the Fifth street building and three in the former Catholic church. From present indications about the only thing that can be done will be to open up an additional room in the church structure until such time as the new building is ready for occupancy.

School will start the first Tuesday in September, which is September 3. That leaves a little less than two months of the present school vacation to be concluded.

At the opening of the term last year there was an enrollment of approximately 1,900 pupils. This number was reported two weeks after first day of schools. Nineteen hundred pupils at the beginning of last term according to statistics will mean about 2,000 at the beginning of this term. The enrollment at the end of the 1911-1912 term was 2,063.

The indications are that the High School enrollment will be larger than last year, when it was 125. This will necessitate considerable crowding in the Fifth street building, where four rooms are already in use.

Before the opening of the coming term the school board will have several teachers to elect. Cupid has carried away some that were elected and some have resigned. Others may resign. It is the intention to give of the entire list for publication a brief while before school opens.

Eldora Park will present the usual attractions tomorrow. The continued hot weather of the week will make the resort a delightful retreat and hundreds from the community will no doubt take advantage of the opportunities for outdoor recreation the park affords for a day of rest.

The number of marriage licenses issued in this county during the year 1912 fell off from the number issued in 1911. There were 111 licenses issued in June of this year in comparison with 129 in 1911. Some of those issued were returned as not being used.

NOT POPULAR.

Since the nomination of Woodrow
Wilson by the Democratic convention
at Baltimore, the third party idea has
very materially diminished in popularity. Republicans who were dis-
appointed that Theodore Roosevelt
did not receive the nomination at Chicago as the Republican candidate
for President are seeing now that
back of the popular sentiment for Roosevelt was also the Colonel's in-
ordinate ambition to again be the chief
executive, together with a growing
conviction in many quarters that only
one man was capable to rule this
nation. The more sober minded voters
recognize that this is a dangerous
condition, and that to continue to fos-
ter such a sentiment brings the country
perilously near a condition where a dic-
tatorship is possible. Col. Roosevelt's
conduct is contrasted with that of W.
J. Bryan, and the result is reaction-
ary.

With the nomination of a so-called
progressive for President on the Democratic ticket it is shown that
there is no material difference in
that party advocates for the
betterment of the people than is ad-
vocated by the Republican platform.
The conviction is now being forced
upon many radicals that a third party
will not have anything more to offer
than either of the two old parties,
and that the movement is one design-
ed to satisfy personal ambitions rather
than to promote the public weal.
Consequently the need for a third
party does not look anywhere so im-
perative as it did a few weeks ago,
and a big sweep in that direction is
no longer indicated. If launched it
must be classed among the lost causes
of political history.

MORE FARMING.

Since the establishment of the Charleroi curb market the need of more and better farming in the vicinity of Charleroi has been most amply demonstrated. One of
the greatest handicaps that the farmer
everywhere over the country has suf-
fered is the lack of a direct market
back heretofore has been the middle-
man who gets the cream of the trade
while the farmer and the consumer
are the sufferers. By this method of
distribution the consumer is forced to
pay the highest prices for farm produce while the farmer in most
cases receives but a minimum price.
The Charleroi curb market has

demonstrated most conclusively that
this community affords a first-class
market for all kinds of farm produce
direct from the farm to the consumer.
The great drawback now is that the
farmers cannot nearly supply the demand. Lack of adequate and regular
markets in the past have discouraged
farming and gardening in this
community that the industry had been
permitted to lapse. Now that the
curb market idea has shown how a
regular and quick market can be de-
veloped, it puts a new phase on the
matter of farming. By this process
a quick market from producer to consumer can be maintained with apportioned for indefinite expansion.
At Washington the Board of Trade
is considering the idea of employing
a government expert agriculturist
to work in the vicinity of the county
seat and co-operate with the farmers
there in the encouragement of production. The idea is an excellent one, and
should command the support of the
whole county. The Charleroi Business Men's Association should communicate with Secretary Dudderer
of the Washington Board of Trade in
regard to the matter, with a view
of extending the sphere of influence
of the expert to include the community about Charleroi. Agriculture, like
any other industry, needs to be fostered
and encouraged. Until there is
more farming the cost of living will
continue to advance.

That Las Vegas scrap wasn't even
an improvement on the affair three years ago when the championship
belt was wrested from the white race.

Pittsburg does seem sort of decent
after all. Not a paper was published
there on the evening of the Fourth.

Some people declare they go to
work when they only report to have
their names entered on the time book.

Some men who would utterly re-
fuse to countenance the bear dance
wouldn't for the love of money miss
anything that travels under the name
of Salome or Sappho with a carnival.

The official returns will have to determine what was the greatest death
dealing instrument of the week.

Automobiles are becoming very old fashioned now that the mortality rate
is decreasing.

The United States flag now bears
48 stars, officially.

Murphy and a few others want to
claim credit for Wilson's victory.
Yet there aren't any returns to indicate that Bryan really wasn't the
chief instrument in that direction.

It probably won't affect results
very much if Roosevelt does go ahead
and run.

It cost Donora approximately $6,000 to have a Fourth of July celebration, and now they are considering what an awful pile it costs to be live wires.

A Cuban scientist is trying to prove that Cuba was once a part of the mainland of the present United States. If they don't behave down
that way Uncle Sam will see to it
that it is yet, to all purposes.

History does not contain the names
of the persons who were first responsible for the safe and sane celebration of the Fourth.

According to an exchange it turns

crats will still stand for him.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"What single incident will arouse
a crowd of American people to the
highest pitch of enthusiasm?" was
the question of a college professor in
a class of students in psychology.
"A long hit," was the reply.

This of course related to baseball,
and the student who made this truth-
ful answer had a keen, analytical
view of human nature. Nothing will
arouse the average American to so
high a pitch of enthusiasm as a long
hit at a critical time by a player of
the home team in a baseball game.

Store Burns at Thomas.

The store of David Thomas, at
Thomas, was burned Friday morning
at about 3 o'clock entailing a loss of
about $4,000 which was partially insured. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Lone Pine Man Loses Horse.

H. P. Gregg of Lone Pine is search-
ing for a valuable horse which slip-
ped its halter while in a livery stable
at Washington where it had been left
and walked off. The animal is valued
at $250.

Marianna Had Big Day.

The model mining town of Marianna celebrated the Fourth in old
fashioned style. There was a ball
game, and a greased pole climbing
contest and a greased pig catching.
John Zippo climbed the greased pole
and John Sergeant and Gerrold
Tower caught the greased pig.

Hit by Batted Ball.

In a game near Lone Pine Friday
Ray Bedilion, a small boy, who was a
spectator was hit by a batted ball
which fractured his cheek bone.

Killed by Falling Tree.

Stephen Vogel of Pittsburg, 19
years old was killed and Henry Rob-
son of Knoxville, had his back broken
by a falling tree on the farm of
Robert S. Bell near Canonsburg Wednesday of this week. The boys were
camping and pitched their tent under
a dead tree. In the night the tree
fell on the tent where the boys were
asleep. Three other boys in the party
escaped injury.

Rescued Boy From Drowning.

Kenneth Hazlett, the 4-year-old
son of Frank Hazlett of West Zol-
larsville, was rescued from drowning

The condition that brings a crowd up
to the tiptoe of breathless expectancy
is described by Dr. Oppenheim, the
noted psychologist, as due to a hypo-
notic influence that sways the crowd.
Each individual concentrates his at-
tention on the progress of the inning
at a ball game, and in critical stages
of the play this concentration be-
comes so intense that a favorable
termination to a majority of the
crowd is sufficient to burst all bonds
of restraint. This is what causes
otherwise staid and self-possessed
citizens to jump up and down and yell
thump their neighbors on the backs,
and throw their hats in the air.

The same influences attains at big
political conventions and evangelistic
meetings. Here speakers command
attention by stirring addresses and
appeals to the emotions of the crowd,
until the concentration of individual
attention is sufficient to sway the
mass. This is what causes stamp-
edes in conventions, and the thou-
sands in the Billy Sunday meetings to
"hit the sawdust trail." It is largely a matter of hypnotism, caused by
intense concentration and the mag-
netic influences of the speakers.

No better illustration of the "long
hit" was exemplified than at Forbes
Field in Pittsburg at the afternoon
game on the Fourth, when Ham Hy-
att of the Pirates made his famous
two-base smash and won the game.
With one accord perhaps 20,000 people of the 23,000 present, arose to
their feet, and a mighty roar went
up. No other single incident could
have worked that crowd up to make
the same noisy demonstration but a
"long hit" which came at the crucial
time. The "long hit" is the psycho-
logical test, and figuratively speaking
the forces that can pull it off at the
right time are the winners.

"I want to pay this bill for $3.84
for advertising," said Justice of the Peace Harry W. Scott of North Char-
leroi, who is also in the real estate
and insurance business, to the business manager of the Mail a few days
ago.

"All right, much obliged," was the
reply. Hope it brought results.

"Well," continued Mr. Scott, "on
the strength of it I made sales ag-
gregating $2,400 and have rented all
the properties in my hands, so that
I'm well satisfied with the outlay."

Wooden Leg Joke.

Why is it, as a writer in the Bell-
man points out, that the general sense
of humor is stirred when anything
happens to a man's wooden leg, such
as its loss or a knothole coming in it,
or getting it under the cars? It is or
was the same way with stealing a

of these accidents are serious. Yet
they are supposed to be subjects for mirth.—Minneapolis Journal.

Elliston, Va.—"I feel it my duty to express my thanks for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was a sufferer from female troubles and had been confined in bed over one third of my time for ten months. I could not do my housework and had fainting spells so that my husband could not leave me alone for five minutes at a time. "Now I have been restored to health and it has come from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Whenever I see a suffering woman I want to tell her what this medicine has done for me and I will always speak a good word for it."—Mrs. ROBERT BLANKENSHIP, Elliston, Va., Montgomery Co.

A most interesting moving picture repertoire was shown at the Palace Theatre this week. In a scientific and industrial way the leading feature was "How Moving Pictures Are Made and Shown," a reproduction of the great Edison plant. "The Gamblers" was one of the strongest emotional dramas ever shown at the Palace and as a legitimate stage production would have fitted the type of Mrs. Leslie Carter, or some of the top-notch feminine stars of the present day. The plot was the story of the desperate straits to which a woman of the world will resort to try to win the love of a man she admires—or at least what she will do to prevent another woman from winning him. Other strong features were "An Indian Idyl," "Across the Divide," "The Colonel's Escape," and others, including the ever popular Pathe Weekly Bulletin. In the latter was scheduled events from the famous land of Tasmania, the graduation of class of "middles" at Annapolis, and a baseball game at the New York Polo Grounds between the Giants and the Cubs. Special matinees were given at the Palace on the Fourth.

One of the most realistic motion pictures ever shown at the Coyle Theatre was in this week's repertoire. This was "The Prairie on Fire," and it was the reproduction of an actual fire on the plains of the great northwest. There was enough of a plot to give human action with some sensational climaxes, but the natural scenes was thrilling in the extreme. A renegade Indian and some companions set fire to the prairie grass in order to be revenged on some white settlers for fancied grievances. The ranchmen have a hard time driving their herds of cattle and horses to safety in the marshes and the vast herd of cattle and horses, swimming rivers and fleeing from the flames made a most thrilling scene. "The Land of Might" was another sensational picture of human initiative and action "done in the open," which gave a graphic idea of pioneer life on the firing line of civilization. "Indian Summer" and "Beneath Western Skies" were two strong dramas secured for special features on the Fourth, while a photoplay that was full of human interest was one entitled "No Children Wanted."

THE STAR—CHARLEROI

"Curfew Must Not Ring Tonight," that romantic poem which is the delight of elocutionists, was exemplified in moving pictures at the Star Theatre this week, and it was one of the most beautiful sentimental dramas ever shown in photoplay. The story is familiar to all—how Basil Underwood, the young royalist, is condemned to die by Oliver Cromwell at the ringing of the curfew. Then comes Bessie, his sweetheart, and pleads with the old sexton not to ring the curfew that night. He refuses her pleadings, and she climbs into the belfry and grasping the tongue of the ponderous bell, swings to and fro at the dizzy height while the deaf old sexton thinks he is ringing the bell. Then meeting Cromwell Bessie "shows her hands, all torn and bleeding," and telling how she kept the curfew bell from ringing, pleads for her lover's life, which Cromwell grants. A beautiful sentiment is embodied in the plot, and it made a most thrilling photoplay. The Star had its usual quota of motion picture dramas this week, including the "Animated Weekly," a bulletin of world wide events, and travel pictures.

THE GRAND—PITTSBURG

Votaries of the stock company will be out in force next week both to witness the production in the Grand of C. Haddon Chamber's fascinating comedy drama, "Captain Swift," and to say au revoir to the popular leading man, Robert Gleckler, who takes his departure from Pittsburgh at the close of the performance on Saturday night, July 13. That Mr. Gleckler's legion of friends will be charmed by his characterization of the mysterious and inscrutable Wilding, who is known in the Australian "bush" as Captain Swift, is a conclusion predicted upon his many excellent performances of the past.

The play is in four acts and at the beginning we find Swift in the home of Mr. Seabrook, an elderly, aristocratic Londoner whose life he has just saved at the peril of his own in a runaway accident. From that moment Swift is a subject of conflicting opinion, of trust and doubt, of love and hate. He has been ushered into the world out of wedlock and, has run away in his early youth and sought the freedom of the Antipodian wilds. As a bushranger he was as much feared as any man who ever rode the king's highway and practiced the "stand-and-deliver" methods of the "freebooter." Australia becoming too warm for him, he took his leave. He has tired of the reckless life and has resolved to mend his ways, seek a home among respectable people and win the love of a good woman. In the home of Mr. Seabrook he finds that woman is Stella Darbisher, Seabrook's niece. But his love-making is stormy, for around him rises the pursuing Nemesis of destiny and he discovers to his undoing, that he is in the home of his own mother and that the net of the law is gradually being drawn about him. His end is tragic. It is re-nunciation.

In the original production, which occupied at the Haymarket Theatre in London, the character of Wilding was interpreted by Sir H. Beerbohm Tree, while that of Stella Darbisher which Miss Magrane will portray, was played by Mrs. Tree. In the production of next week the other roles will be essayed by Dennis Harris, Margaret Lewis, Hal De Forest, Katherine Stanton, Ralph Remley, Grace Valentine, Frank Wright, May Reardon and others. Stage director, Frederick Bismelton, will give each of the four acts in which Mr. Chambers has set his delightful play a charming and adequate stage setting.

THE HIPPODROME—PITTSBURG

Already preparations are fast shaping themselves for the second week of the season of Pittsburgh Hippodrome, Forbes Field, which begins Monday evening, July 8. A number of the foreign attractions booked by Manager John P. Harris while abroad this summer are now on their way across the Atlantic and will arrive within the next few days, coming direct to Pittsburgh for preliminary rehearsals. Distinctive novelties such as have not before appeared at the Hippodrome are included in the list and there promises to be a greater diversity of acts even than heretofore.

One of the especially interesting attractions will be Czarzo, a modern athlete who duplicates the greatest feats of the fabled giants and the mythological Hercules. Czarzo is a man of tremendous physical development and superhuman strength. His act is introduced in an unique and wholly original manner.

For the convenience of the pleasure-seeking public the Hippodrome management has not only placed its seats on sale at Lechner and Schoenberger company's piano house, next to the Grand Opera House on Fifth Avenue, but has also opened a ticket office in May's Drug Store, on Penn Avenue near Highland in the East End. Reservations may be made at either of these places at any time from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. and after that at Forbes Field.

King George Owns Sandringham.

The statement is again being published that Sandringham is the absolute property of Queen Alexandra. As a matter of fact in the will of the late King Edward the whole estate was left solely to King George, his late majesty merely stipulating that the queen mother should have the entire use of it during her lifetime and adding a wish that in the future the place might become the dowry house of the queen consort. King George is, however, in no way bound by this, and is at liberty when the proper time arrives to dispose of it in any manner that seems best to him. In the meantime he has entire charge of the estate, pays all the outgoings and receives the income.

He Wouldn't Advertise

Breathes there a man, with soul so dead
Who never to himself hath said:
"My trade of late is getting bad,
I'll try another eight-inch ad."
If such there be, go mark him well;
For him no bank account shall swell,
No angels watch the golden stair
To welcome home the millionaire
The man who never asks for trade
By local line or ad. displayed.
Cares more for rest than worldly gain,
And patronage but gives him pain,
Tread lightly friends; let no rude sound
Disturb his solitude profound.
Here let him live in calm repose,
Unsought except by men he owes
And when he dies, go plant him deep,
That naught may break his dreamless sleep;
Where no rude clamor may dispel
The quiet that he loved so well.
And when the world may know its loss,
Place on his grave a wreath of moss,
And on the stone above, "Here lies
A chump who wouldn't advertise."

Advertise and the world is with you!
Don't and you'll be alone.
For the world today will never pay
A Cent to the Great Unknown.

Perfumes Today Are Extracted From Almost Everything but Seemingly Natural Source.

There are few perfumes today that cannot be made from chemicals, synthetically, as the chemists call it. Formerly all perfumes were extracted from flowers, fruits, spices, woods or other vegetable and animal substances. The first perfume to be imitated was vanilla, in 1876. Heliotropine followed, but obtained by oxidation of a by-product of camphor.

Terpinol is one of the most freely used constituents of perfumes. This is a near relation of turpentine. With this a little oil and aquatortis a chemist can produce a perfume that can scarcely be distinguished from those exhaled by the lily of the valley, lilac and Cape Jessamine, varying according to the proportions in which the chemicals are blended.

Artificial violet is a combination of citrol (an essence extracted from lemon), Indian vervatol, or lemon verbenol, with common acetone, a substance very like pyrolygneous acid.

No chemist has been able to counterfeited musk, but a synthetic perfume called musk is made from toluene, a by-product of benzene and coal tar. This is changed to a complex carburet, treated with azotic and sulphuric acids, is diluted and sold as musk.

Most of the cheap perfumes are imitations and they are almost always inferior to the flower extracts. So it might properly be said that it is a wise flower that knows its own perfume.

Not Those Two.

Silliness—"Do you think a man can afford to indulge in two luxuries at the same time?" Cynicism—"Not if they happen to be a wife and a champagne supper appetite."

Do you want to rent your furnished room?
Do you want to sell your house?
Do you want to sell your eggs, poultry or live stock?
Have you lost anything?
Have you anything to trade?
Do you want to sell your piano?

There are many who want to do one or the other of these things. Most of them don't know how to go about it. If they could only tell the people what they want they would be all right. If they could only let the people know without disclosing their identity that might be better still.

If you want to buy, sell or secure any of the above, or if you want to trade anything, did it ever occur to you that the best thing in the world to do is to use the Classified Columns of the Mail.

WHY WOMEN SUFFER

Many Charlot Women are Learning The Cause

Women often suffer, not knowing the cause. Backache, headache, dizziness, nervousness. Irregular urinary passage, weakness, languor. Each a seeming torture of itself. Together tell of weakened kidneys. Quickly give the help the kidneys need. No remedy endorsed like Doan's Kidney Pills. Endorsed at home. Here's convincing proof from a Charlot citizen. Mrs. William Urban, Sr., 736 Fallowfield avenue, Charlot, Pa., says: "Some years ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Piper Bros. Drug Store and they cured me of an attack of kidney disease. I value this remedy highly, and do not hesitate to recommend it to other sufferers from kidney trouble."

McCLINTOCK'S

SLANTS PUZZLE

THE CHRISTIAN THE CHRISTIAN

Washington Avenues Claim Victory and Strengthen Pennant Hopes

Bert Mitchell's festive ballers waltzed away with a lovely engagement from the Christians. Friday night thereby glueing themselves firmly to second place and affording the First Presbyterians a ton or so of worry about their hold on first position. McClintock after twirling at Washington on the Fourth came home and twirled for the Washington Avenues. Apparently the little practice affair at the county seat had only put him in good fettle. The Christians got three hits and had to be satisfied. Landshark delivered the twisters for the Christians.

Two innings answered in the business of winning. In the first Davis, first man up with the Washington Avenues singled. Coven waved at three, Mitchell fouled out. Barrass singled, advancing Davis, then stole second. Claybaugh was presented with a walk. Nutt and Flood singled successively bringing in three scores. In the second McClintock, first up, singled and stole second. Davis was delivered to first base on a fielder's choice. Coven hit out a sacrifice fly which helped McClintock along to home plate. Mitchell was out, second to first and Barrass doubled, scoring Davis.

Allhouse won first on a fielder's choice that put out Landshark for the Christians in the third inning. He went second on an error and stole third. Oates struck out. Jolliffe singled bringing in the Christian's only run. Score:

FOR NEXT WEEK

Church League Contests Are

Growing in Interest--Teams Well Balanced

Next week promises to be a warm one in Church Baseball league circles. With all the teams in good shape and every game a guess as to results the season is on in good shape and the next few days will contain unusual interest.

The first battle of the week will be between the Lutherans and the Catholics. Ordinarily the Catholics would be the favorites, but lately the 1911 Champs have been picking up in great style and by the acquisition of a few new players have made several of the teams look tired. Tuesday's engagement will be between the Christians and the Washington Avenues. It doesn't take even a guess to fathom out what this will mean. It will be an engagement worth the money from the word go. Both are up near the top and both would like to be a trifle closer.

Wednesday's game will be that postponed from a former date between the Catholics and Christians. The Episcopals and Washington Avenues will fight it out on Thursday and on Friday the First Presbyterians and the Baptists will maul each other.

Next week a person would only have to trust his choice to fate to strike a good game, if the dope holds. The Church league this year contains teams better balanced than last year. Every one of them has some excellent players. The Lutherans were the latest to bolster up with the addition of Joe Gray, a brother of Alex Gray and a Grove City player, and Very, a former State college star. John McIlvaine, late of the New York State league and the United States league has joined his former aggregation, the Baptists. The rest of the teams were strong from the word go. The First Presbyterians have a hold on first place but it would not be called a sticky grasp in any sense while the Catholics are in their old time form and are playing well together.

Drew the Line at Cats.

To the list of divorces for seemingly trivial causes--such as "cruelty in not taking me out riding," "cruelty in requiring me to sew on buttons," etc., has now been added a divorce granted to a man who charged his wife with "cruelty in keeping cats in the house," thereby preventing him from occupying his favorite chair. On the judge's inquiring, "Why didn't you put the cats out of the house?" the man answered, "My wife is a member of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and I was afraid she would have me arrested."

Where Strength is Needed.

It is one thing to play the game before, applauding thousands, and quite another to do it in the ordinary quiet concerns of daily life.

Anchor Class Meets.

The Anchor class of the Christian church held its regular monthly meeting at Eldora, Friday with a large number of ladies present. Each lady as her name was called responded with a toast. The table fairly groaned under the good things the ladies had prepared to eat.

Forced to Sacrifice Beard.

The Wisconsin farmer whom Judge Holand condemned, in lieu of a fine which he could not pay, to have his flowing beard cut off, may find consolation in the fact that a similar order deprived a man in New York of long and carefully cultivated whiskers a few days ago. The man is employed in a manufacturing concern where his duties bring him in contact with rapid moving machinery. The proprietor's little son, in a visit to the factory, stood near the machine which the bearded man was operating and asked: "Don't the hair ever get mixed up with the silk?" The operator simply smiled, but the father, realising a danger, gave the man then and there the option of shave or discharge. He chose the former.
